

FOREIGNER SIDE 4: CATHERINE & DAVID

Reverend David has returned from a trip that has kept him away several days, his fiancé Catherine is not pleased that he has been away so long, and has some upsetting news to share.

DAVID – Hi honey! Honey? What’s wrong?

CATHERINE – I’m pregnant! You’re not so sterile after all. Idn’ that good news Honey?

DAVID – oh.

CATHERINE – Yeah.

DAVID – Oh, well, honey – if you really are – Now, come here, now –

CATHERINE – No

DAVID – Come here. If you really are, then what do you think?

CATHERINE – I don’t know. Then I guess I go up to Atlanta and find somebody who can –

DAVID – Honey, no.

CATHERINE – What do you mean no?

DAVID – Honey, don’t even –

CATHERINE – This is me we’re talkin’ about. You think I’m gonna walk down that aisle all ballooned up as big as a house in front of all my people? No, sir. No. I am not. Nooo.

DAVID – Honey, no. Listen-we’ll get married right away then. We don’t have to wait until November. We’ll do it now.

CATHERINE – I don’t want to do it now! It’s planned for November. Oh, David. How did this happen.

DAVID – It’s a miracle, that’s what it is. That’s what I think it is. Can’t you see it that way? I think it must have been supposed to happen.

CATHERINE – Yeah, well, I didn’t suppose it to happen. You didn’t suppose it to happen. You told me you could never have any-

DAVID – I know.

CATHERINE – So who supposed it to happen? The good Lord, I suppose?

DAVID – I think so, yes.

CATHERINE – Well, that’s fine for Him. He’s not the one that’s gonna have to –

DAVID – Oh honey, I know how you feel.

CATHERINE – No, you don't.

DAVID – Yes, I do. You feel trapped, and wronged, and not – ready, and I don't blame you. But honey, I love you. And now it looks like we're meant to have a family. I say let's celebrate. Let's just do it.

CATHERINE – You really want to?

DAVID – Yes!

CATHERINE – Can I ask you something?

DAVID - Anything you want.

CATHERINE – Who the hell are you?

DAVID – What?

CATHERINE – Look! I mean would you look at that? Would you take a look at the nerve of that? (to Charlie) You mean you were just sitting there this whole time? I don't believe it. I never heard of anything so rude. When I think about what we were talking about...
